FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

OCEAN VIEW SCHOOL DISTRICT TEACHERS TO BE FEATURED IN NATIONAL TEXTBOOK PUBLISHER'S PROFESSIONAL DEVELOPMENT SERIES

With the national dialog regarding teacher effectiveness dominating the media, Ocean View School District has a special recognition to share: National Textbook Publisher McGraw-Hill Education is featuring College View, Sun View, and Westmont teachers in their new video online professional development program that will help teachers with the "how-to's" of differentiated instruction.

As part of their commitment to providing educators with the tools needed to meet the requirements of groundbreaking reforms such as No Child Left Behind, McGraw Hill Education is creating an online professional development program that will feature video clips of Ocean View classrooms as model programs in their implementation of differentiated instruction.

Ocean View School District is inviting the local press to College View School on Thursday, March 10, 2011 from 8:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. McGraw-Hill Education will be filming first and fourth grade classrooms for their professional development series.

Ocean View is very proud of our teachers who will soon be featured as model educators in this exciting new professional development series.

Please contact Anne Silavs, Director of Curriculum and Instruction, at 714.847.2551 for further information about the selection, and Principal Kristi White, Ed.D. if you plan to attend on March 10th.
